He Should Trouble to Read Geneva Accords

To the Editor of The Courant:

Michael Moser in his letter of August 22 displays what is either an abysmal ignorance of, or a total disregard for, the facts.

He states that "according to the Geneva Conference of 1954 Vietnam was to be divided" etc If Mr. Moser would trouble to read the Geneva accords he would find that they specifically indicate that Vietnam is to be unified by free elections, not divided, and that the demarcation line is to be in no way construed as permanent. I suggest he write to the U.N. for a copy.

As for Diem being "elected— as a result of The Geneva Conference's call for free elections", what can one say. The fact is that there has NEVER been a free election in South Vietnam. Diem was practically hand picked by the C.I.A. et. al. and subsequently murdered by the same.

Moser states further that it "all started" in 1959 with Diem's plea for help. A little research will prove that it all started long before that time. The U.S. was backing the French for a number of years with millions of dollars and when the French could not or would not carry the fight any further we stepped in and have been there ever since.
